Dear Friends,

This Holy Week has brought for Janet and me, and our children, days of deepest grieving and sorrow, which many of you have known at times in your own lives as well.

The Bible says of Jesus: "Surely he has borne our griefs and carried out sorrows." And so we bring it all to Him. We know that the events of these days – the suffering, death and resurrection of Jesus – are the basis for our hope and our salvation. We know that Peter is now set free and in the glorious presence of his Savior, and we know we will be together with him again one glorious day.

Love in Christ,
Pastor Paul & Janet
